

Almost every evening I received unsolicited phone calls from banks and Mortgage companies offering refinancing programs. Often I have wondered why they are an exception to the "no call list" I signed up for. It truly is an invasion of my privacy & time. Let them do business by other methods like other business do. I have been in sales for 19 yrs & respect the no call idea.